

*it buzzed,
pulsed,
and rang constantly*

It distracted me, disrupted important conversations, and discouraged me. I couldn't stand it—but I couldn't get away from it.

"It," of course, is tinnitus.

It's commonly referred to as "ringing in the ears," but since I've seen my AudigyCertified™ provider for treatment and fitting of the all-new AGX tinnitus solution, my life has been calmer, and I've felt more focused and carefree than I have in a long time.

It's all thanks to some great advice and a tiny, powerful device that was customized to alleviate the irritating sounds I was experiencing.

My AudigyCertified professionals did so much more than provide me with a tinnitus solution. They created a personalized treatment plan.

With so many options to choose from, they made it simple to find a treatment plan that fit my lifestyle, budget, and specific challenge with tinnitus. I feel better than I have in years.

Tinnitus Solution

Designed for personalized relief

AGX HEARING

Express when, where, and how you want to hear.

Over 60 million Americans experience tinnitus—that's 1 in 5 people.

My tinnitus was likely caused by noise-induced hearing loss. I work in a loud environment and didn't wear hearing protection like I should have. But my AGX tinnitus solution has made such a difference in how I feel.

So what exactly is tinnitus?

Though it's understandable to believe otherwise, tinnitus is not a disease—it's a symptom of an underlying health condition, like a head or neck injury, ear infections, impacted earwax, or even side effects from certain medications or exposure to excessive noise.

The most important step in taking control of your tinnitus is finding an experienced provider who will work closely with you to create an effective solution. My AudigyCertified professionals showed me that I don't just have to live with tinnitus—they changed my life.

AGX tinnitus solution

Designed for personalized relief.

Though my tinnitus isn't curable, it is treatable. And it's all thanks to the advice and AGX tinnitus solution technology my AudigyCertified provider recommended.

These are comfortable and subtle—they're unlike anything else I've tried before. And I've tried it all. Now I don't spend much time thinking about my tinnitus. I can focus on the people and things that I love.
